Preface

THE American Sporting Manual seems to be a necessity. For that reason alone it is published. The aim of the Daily Racing Form Publishing Co. is to give the American public the sort of book it needs at a popular price. The thoroughbred turf has been naturally cared for. In other American annual books of record it has always been slurred. The Handicap Tables are keen novelties. Two were published in the 1897 Manual. In this, three are displayed. In addition an article as to the application of the figures is printed. It contains the directions as to the methods used by the Editor and handicappers in the office of the Daily Racing Form in making their calculations. The track speed and comparative speed tables fit into the figures of handicapping, the basis of which is time. They have been corrected and give the various time tables to date. The history of 1897 pugilism is full and complete and so are the records of every American race track. The book is just what it is said to be, and built for popular use in a popular way.

Pugilistic Record of 1897

FORM OF THE FIGHTERS

The year just closed has been prolific of many surprises in the pugilistic corner. First, the passing of Corbett and the advent of Fitzsimmons as the champion in the heavy-weight division. Then, little George Dixon, one of the grandest figures in modern pugilism, whose pitcher went to the well once too often, and was broken by Solly Smith. The latter's victory was, however, not decisive, as Dixon was there at the end and not only ready, but anxious to continue the fray. The referee's decision, however, called a halt to proceedings.

Walcott, deemed invincible, in many quarters, went down to defeat before the grulling attack of "Kid" Lavigne. While "Kid" McCoy was a figure in the game previously, the past year only accorded a place with the top sawyers.

Of course, the feature of the year's fistic engagements was the meeting between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. As the referee of that important contest, diplomacy might suggest an avoidance in discussing the battle proper. I believe, as do others who saw the contest, that the men fought fourteen of the fastest, fiercest and cleanest rounds ever contested. Dan A. Stuart, the big-hearted Texan, is entitled to a world of credit for the masterful manoeuvring which made the fight possible after it had been legislated against in two republics and in most of the states. I am told that Stuart has made millions out of the photographing scheme he used on what is now termed, "The Battle of the Century," and I hope it was so, for never was a man made the target for short-sighted, narrow-minded chicanery and hypocrisy that Stuart was. I do not like to pose as a prophet, but I think before the year is over with, Corbett and Fitzsimmons will come together again, and that the second meeting will be under the management of the man who brought off the first one in the face of almost universal opposition.

Outside of the two who will figure in this, "Kid" McCoy, Tommy Ryan, Joe Walcott, Kid Lavigne, and Jimmy Barry occupy the most commanding positions today before the public. Peter Maher, J. J. Jefferies, Tom Sharky, Gus Ruhlin and Bob Armstrong in the heavy-weight division; Dan Creedon and Dick O'Brien in the middle-weight class; Tom Tracey and "Kid" Partland in the welter-weight group; Matthews, Daly, Zeigler and Everhart among the light-weights; Solly Smith, Dal Hawkins, George Dixon and Tommy White in the heavy feather-weight class; Billy Rotchford and Sammy Kelly in the feather-weight division, and Casper Leon and young Flanagan in the bantam-weights are all factors.

McCoy is an aspirant for one end of the two-handled title held by Fitzsimmons, and Tom O'Rourke's recent challenge to McCoy on behalf of Walcott shows the anxiety of "The Barbadoes Wonder" to stop McCoy's progress up the pugilistic ladder. Lavigne stands head and shoulders above anything in his class, and the facility with which he disposed of Walcott induces the belief that he will have to take on welter-weights. Barry, the Chicago bantam, whose English battle with Walter Crook unfortunately terminated in the death of the latter, has fought and whipped all his men, and a new crop of bantams will have to come forward, providing Barry intends to keep in the game. Peter Maher is still in his prime and, although defeated twice by Fitzsimmons, ranks next to Bob and Jim. Sharkey, simply through his rough style of fighting, is a tough customer. Ruhlin, Jefferies and Armstrong are comparatively new men, and will have to go quite a route before intelligent form is possible. Dixon and White, although defeated, are still able to warm somebody's jacket. Jack McAuliffe is, I fear, done for. Young Griffo, too, has developed into an incorrigible and irredeemable unreliable.

RULES GOVERNING PUGILISM

There are but two sharp codes of rules governing fistic contests: Those of the London prize ring and the set formulated, after being drawn up, by the Markuis of Queensbury, who, in his day, was the best amateur boxer in all England. The two codes are displayed here:

MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY RULES

Rule 1—To be a fair stand-up boxing match in a twenty-four foot ring or as near that size as practicable.

Rule 2—No wrestling or hugging allowed.

Rule 3—The rounds to be of three minutes' duration, and one minute time between rounds.

Rule 4—If any man fall, through weakness or otherwise, he must get up unassisted, ten seconds to be allowed him to do so, the other man meanwhile to return to his corner, and when the fallen man is on his legs the round is to be resumed and continued until the three minutes have expired. If one man fails to come to the scratch in the ten seconds allowed, it shall be in the power of the referee to give his award in favor of the other man.

Rule 5—A man hanging on the ropes in a helpless state, with his toes off the ground, shall be considered down.

Rule 6—No seconds or any other person to be allowed in the ring during the rounds.

Rule 7—Should the contest be stopped by any unavoidable interference, the referee to name time and place, as soon as possible, for finishing the contest; so that the match must be won and lost, unless the backers of both men agree to draw the stakes.

Rule 8—The gloves to be fair-sized boxing gloves of the best quality and new.

Rule 9—Should a glove burst, or come off, it must be replaced to the referee's satisfaction.

Rule 10—A man on one knee is considered down, and if struck is entitled to the stakes.

Rule 11—No shoes or boots with springs allowed.

Rule 12—The contest in all other respects to be governed by the revised rules of the London Prize Ring.

LONDON PRIZE RING RULES

Rule 1—The ring shall be made on turf, and shall be four-and-twenty feet square, formed of eight stakes and ropes, the latter extending in double lines, the uppermost line being four feet from the ground, and the lower two feet from the ground. In the center of the ring a mark be formed, to be termed a scratch.

Rule 2—Each man shall be attended to the ring by two seconds and a bottle-holder. The combatants, on shaking hands, shall retire until the seconds of each have tossed for choice of position, which adjusted, the winner shall choose his corner according to the state of the wind or sun, and conduct his man thereto; the loser taking the opposite diagonal corner.

Rule 3—Each man shall be provided with a handkerchief of a color suitable to his own fancy, and the seconds shall entwine these handkerchiefs at the upper end of one of the center stakes. These handkerchiefs shall be called "Colors," and the winner of the battle at its conclusion shall be entitled to their possession as the trophy of victory.

Rule 4—The two umpires shall be chosen by the seconds or backers to watch the progress of the battle, and take exception to any breach of the rules hereinafter stated. A referee shall be chosen by the umpires, unless otherwise agreed on, to whom all disputes shall be referred; and the decision of this referee, whatever it may be, shall be final and strictly binding on all parties, whether as to the matter in dispute or the issue of the battle. The referee shall be provided with a watch for the purpose of calling time; the call of that referee only to be attended to, and no other person whatever shall interfere in calling time. The referee shall withhold all opinion till appealed by the umpires, and the umpires strictly abide by his decision without dispute.

Rule 5—On the men being stripped it shall be the duty of the seconds to examine their drawers, and if any objection arises as to insertion of improper substances therein, they shall appeal to their umpires who, with the concurrence of the referee, shall direct what alterations shall be made.

Rule 6—The spikes in the fighting boots shall be confined to three in number, which shall not exceed three-eighths of an inch from the sole of the boot, and shall not be less than one-eighth of an inch broad at the point; two to be placed in the broadest part of the sole and one in the heel; and in the event of a man wearing any other spikes, either in toes or elsewhere, he shall be compelled either to remove them or provide other boots properly spiked, the penalty for refusal to be a loss of the stakes.

Rule 7—Both men being ready, each shall be conducted to that side of the scratch next his corner previously chosen; and the second on the one side and the men on the other, having shaken hands the former shall immediately leave the ring, and there remain until the round be finished, on no pretense whatever approaching their principals during the round, without permission from the referee. The penalty to be the loss of the battle to the offending parties.

Rule 8—At the conclusion of the round when one or both of the men shall be down, the seconds shall step into ring and carry or conduct their principal to his corner there affording him the necessary assistance; and no person whatever shall be permitted to interfere in his duty.

Rule 9—On the expiration of thirty seconds the referee appointed shall cry "Time," upon which each man shall rise from the knee of his second and walk to his own side of the scratch unaided; the seconds immediately leaving the ring. The penalty for either of them remaining eight seconds after the call of time to be the loss of the battle to his principal; and either man failing to be at the scratch within eight seconds shall be deemed to have lost the battle.

Rule 10—On no consideration whatever shall any person except the second and the referee be permitted to enter the ring during the battle; nor till it shall have been concluded; and in the event of such unfair practice, or the ropes or stakes being disturbed or removed, it shall be in the power of the referee to award the victory to that man, who, in his honest opinion, shall have the best of the contest.

Rule 11—The seconds shall not interfere, advise or direct the adversary of their principal, and shall refrain from all offensive and irritating expressions, in all respects conducting themselves with order and decorum, and confine themselves to the diligent and careful discharge of their duties to their principals.

Rule 12—In picking up their men, should the second wilfully injure the antagonist of their principal, the latter shall be deemed to have forfeited the battle on the decision of the referee.

Rule 13—It shall be a fair "stand-up-fight," and if either man shall wilfully throw himself down without receiving a blow, whether blows shall have been previously exchanged or not, he shall be deemed to have lost the battle; but this rule shall not apply to a man who in a close slips down from the grasp of his opponent to avoid punishment, or from obvious accident or weakness.

Rule 14—Butting with the head shall be deemed foul, and the party resorting to this practice shall be deemed to have lost the battle.

Rule 15—A blow struck when a man is thrown or down shall be deemed foul. A man with one knee and one hand on the ground, or with both knees on the ground, shall be deemed down; and a blow given in either of these positions shall be considered foul, providing always that, when in such position, the man so down shall not himself strike, or attempt to strike.

Rule 16—A blow struck below the waistband shall be deemed foul, and in a close, seizing an antagonist below the waist, by the thigh or otherwise, shall be deemed foul.

Rule 17—All attempts to inflict injury by gouging, or tearing the flesh with the fingers or nails, and biting, shall be deemed foul.

Rule 18—Kicking, or deliberately falling on an antagonist with the knees or otherwise when down, shall be deemed foul.

Rule 19—All bets shall be paid as the battle money after a fight is awarded.

Rule 20—The referee and umpires shall take their positions in front of the center stake, outside the ropes.

Rule 21—Due notice shall be given by the stakeholder of the day and place where the battle money is to be given up, and be exonerated from all responsibility upon obeying the direction of the referee; all parties be strictly bound by these rules; and in future, all articles of agreement for a contest be entered into with a strict and willing adherence to the letter and spirit of these rules.

Rule 22—In the event of magisterial or other interference, or in case of darkness coming on, the referee (or stakeholder in case no referee has been chosen) shall have the power to name the time and place for the next meeting, if possible on the same day, or as soon after as may be. In naming the second or third place the nearest spot shall be selected to the original place of fighting where there is a chance of its being fought out.

Rule 23—Should the fight not be decided on the day all bets shall be drawn, unless the fight shall be resumed the same week, between Sunday and Sunday, in which case the referee's duties shall continue and the bets shall stand and be decided by the event. The battle money shall remain in the hands of the stakeholder until fairly won or lost by a fight, unless a draw is mutually agreed upon, or, in case of a postponement, one of the principals shall be absent, when the man in the ring shall be awarded the stakes. . .

Rule 24—Any pugilist voluntarily quitting the ring previous to the deliberate judgment of the referee being obtained shall be deemed to have lost the fight.

Rule 25—On an objection being made by the seconds or umpire the men shall retire to their corners, and there remain until the decision of the appointed authorities shall be obtained; if pronounced "foul" the battle shall be at an end, but if "fair," "time" shall be called by the party appointed, and the man absent from the scratch in eight seconds after shall be deemed to have lost the fight. The decision in all cases to be given promptly and irrevocably, for which purpose the umpires and the referee should be invariably close together.

Rule 26—If a man leaves the ring, either to escape punishment or for any other purpose without the permission of the referee, unless he is involuntarily forced out, shall forfeit the battle.

Rule 27—The use of hard substances, such as stones or sticks, or of resin in the hand during the battle shall be deemed foul, and on the requisition of the seconds of either man, the accused shall open his hands for the examination of the referee.

Rule 28—Hugging on the ropes shall be deemed foul. A man held by the neck against the stakes or upon or against the ropes shall be considered down, and all interference with him in that position shall be foul. If a man in any way makes use of the ropes or stakes to aid him in squeezing his adversary he shall be deemed the loser of the battle, and if a man in a close reaches the ground with his knees, his adversary shall immediately loose him or lose the battle.

Rule 29—All glove or room fights to be as nearly as possible in conformity with the foregoing rules.

FOOTBALL OF 1897

East or west, the football season of 1897 must stand out as the most striking one of recent years, both in the matter of interest excited and in the outcome of the so-called championship or big games. In the east, the supremacy was undecided, Pennsylvania and Yale claiming the honors, while in the west, the first time for years, Wisconsin secured the undisputed title of champion.

The sport was by no means confined to the colleges and universities, every high school throughout the land and many of the grammar schools putting fully equipped elevens on the grid-iron, while the number of prairie teams came nigh equaling those of the base ball season. Athletic clubs with their wealth of material, oftentimes secured by questionable means, had well organized elevens, but unfortunately, in the west, these were barred from meeting university elevens, the only teams that could match them in strength.

The money made during the season, the attendance at the different games and the interest excited was almost unparalleled. The receipts of the games at Cambridge, where Yale and Harvard played, at New Haven, between Yale and Princeton, and at Philadelphia, the home grounds of the Pennsylvania eleven, amounted to small fortunes. Yale and Harvard divided $30,000 as the result of their game at Cambridge, over $25,000 was taken in at the Yale-Princeton game, while the season, seven weeks at the most, netted Pennsylvania over $50,000, 75,000 people having paid admission, ranging in price from 50 cents to $2.00, to see the games. In the west Chicago has been the principal money-maker, although her receipts nowhere equal those of eastern universities. At the games on Marshall field there was perhaps an average attendance of 5,000, at 50 cents a person, while Thanksgiving day at the Coliseum in the game with Michigan the amount taken in approached $20,000. The other universities are situated in smaller towns and have not the wealth of people to draw from that has Chicago, but they all made money.

So much for the details aside from the actual playing. At the beginning of the season in the west, Chicago with all but four of her old men back appeared to have the brightest prospects and was early hailed as the championship team of the year. The September games seemed to show a lack of snap and vigor, but as Northwestern and Illinois went down in sharply fought contests, the Midway team each time playing the game a little better, as though it had class, hope revived in the breast of the Maroon rooter and he became more boastful than ever. At Madison, Phil King had been putting in extra licks with the material at hand and had rounded out a team better than outsiders were aware of. The first intimation that the Cardinal was going to be an important factor in championship contests came when it administered an overwhelming defeat to Minnesota at Minneapolis by the score of 39 to 0. The latter team was counted upon as being one of the strong western elevens. It was the first big game that Madison played, her attention before being confined to the high school eleven. No other opportunity was given to get a line on Wisconsin's men until they played Chicago. It was an awful drubbing that the Chicago boys got, 23 to 8, and Stagg's hopes of an unbeaten eleven were blighted. One more big game, the one with Evanston, which Wisconsin won rather easily, 22 to 0, completed her schedule, and, as Chicago defeated Michigan Thanksgiving day, gave the Badgers the title of Western champions.

Illinois at one time appeared to be a decisive factor in the western football field, but after Purdue was downed the Illinois men lost to Chicago, 18 to 12, and the Carlisle Indians, 23 to 6, their remaining big games.

Northwestern, hampered by the lack of training, was unable to win any of her big games; Michigan suffered but one defeat, that of Thanksgiving day, at the hands of Chicago; Purdue rallied Thanksgiving day, defeating Minnesota, which slumped awfully from the beginning of the season.

In the east the season closed with Pennsylvania and Yale clamoring for recognition and the football experts at sea so far as giving either the preference was concerned. Yale's work throughout the season was little short of wonderful, while Pennsylvania, after giving surprising exhibitions, marred its record during the last game when Cornell broke up the famous guards-back formation and only allowed the Quakers to score seven minutes before the end of the game.

At the beginning of the season, Princeton and Pennsylvania were regarded as having the strongest teams in the east, and the universal cry was what a shame they do not meet. Negotiations were opened looking to a meeting between the rival institutions but Princeton would not yield. Yale was looked upon almost with compassion, the coaches having little but green material to work with and the early games being especially discouraging. Harvard was thought to have a good chance to defeat Yale, in the first of the football contests after the healing of the breach which had kept them apart three seasons. But as the season wore on Yale showed a faculty to improve with every game so that after just winning from Brown by a score of 18 to 14 and tying West Point, 6 to 6, they kept Harvard from scoring, although unable to do so themselves, and a week later upset all football predictions except those of the men who had most carefully watched their work, by winning from Princeton, 6 to 0, in one of the fiercest football contests ever played.

Pennsylvania might still have a good chance to claim supremacy, for she defeated Harvard, 15 to 6, after having run up 40 points against Brown, 20 against the Indians and 46 against Lafayette, a team that defeated the Quakers the year before, but for that dreadful Thanksgiving day game, at the thought of which the Pennsylvania rooter shudders. Yale has no athletic arrangements with Pennsylvania, so the question as to which had the better team was left open, critics favoring the latter.

The game itself was freer from roughness perhaps than for some seasons back but nevertheless a hue and cry was raised against it so strong in the west that at a conference of Western Universities at the Chicago Beach Hotel, the day following Thanksgiving, a committee was appointed to draft rules which should reform this feature of the game. Prof. Everett, of Illinois, was made chairman, and will report the committee's work sometime in January.

The great feature of the game has been the advance in place kicking of goals from the field. Under the present scoring rules a field goal counts five points, one more than a touchdown. With good fullbacks, such as Herschberger of Chicago, and O'Dea of Wisconsin, these points were scored frequently, Hudson, of the Carlisle Indians, was the drop kicker of the east, his two goals against Pennsylvania being the only scores with the exception of Harvard, made against the Quakers. Cornell was the first team to score on Harvard, a nicely dropped kick resulting in five points.

The great advantage this gives to teams with good fullbacks has been the cause of a great outcry to lower the value of the field goal. This will probably be fully discussed when the subject of rules revision comes up. The goal kick after a touchdown, which counts half as much as a touchdown—two points—is thought to be unfair, and a crusade is being waged to cut its value one-half, or do away with it entirely.

The guards-back play, devised by Woodruff of Pennsylvania, was the other main feature. In this formation the guards were called back and thus five men behind the line were in full motion when the ball was put in play, a force that few teams were able to stop without an advance. It is probable that the rule requiring seven men to be in the line when the ball is put in play will do away with this feature next season.

An all-western team, picked with especial attention to its defensive strength, would probably be composed as follows:

Substitutes—Dean, Wisconsin, end; Holmes, Wisconsin, tackle; Comstock, Wisconsin, guard; Hazzard, Wisconsin, center; Shuler, Illinois, quarter-back; Moore, Purdue, and Clarke, Chicago, half-backs, and O'Dea, Wisconsin, full-back.

An all-eastern team, picked with especial attention to defense, would probably be composed as follows:

Boyle, Pennsylvania, left end; Rodgers, Yale, left tackle; Hare, Pennsylvania, left guard; Cadwalader, Yale, center; McCracken, Pennsylvania, right guard; Chamberlain, Yale, right guard; Cochran, Princeton, captain and right end; Young, Cornell, quarter-back; Kelley, Princeton, and Minds, Pennsylvania, half-backs; Baird, Princeton, full-back.

Substitutes—Hall, Yale, end; Holt, Princeton, tackle; Edwards, Princeton, guard; Overfield, Pennsylvania, center; Dibblee, Harvard, Metoxen, Carlisle, Fultz, Brown and Benjamin, Yale, half-backs, using Baird for substitute quarter-back and Minds for substitute full-back.

BASE BALL

The season of 1897 was successful in baseball, and the National game is probably just now on the most promising basis in its history. With the revival of business that is generally manifested the season of 1898 is expected to excel all records in the way of interest shown in the game.

There are no changes in the National league circuit, for the approaching season. The standing of the clubs in 1897 was as follows:

An important change has been made in the method of scheduling games. On account of the long absence from home, entailed by visits of Eastern clubs to the West, and vice versa, when the entire circuit was covered on one trip, it has been decided that the sectional visits in the future shall be made in two trips. That is to say, a Western club will hereafter play in three of the Eastern cities on one trip, and then return West, playing in the other three Eastern cities on its next trip. This will double the traveling expenses of the teams, but is expected to be a profitable change, nevertheless. The double umpire system was also adopted by the National league, and hereafter there will be two umpires in all championship games, one to officiate behind the bat, the other to give decisions on the bases.

St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs lost money on the season, but the other teams are all credited with making money.

The winnings of the Boston team were heavy. New York also had a profitable season. Philadelphia had the poorest financial results in years, owing to the poor article of ball put up by the Quaker team.

The league adopted a most radical resolution against disorderly scenes on the ball field. The measure provides that a player, who has been convicted of using indecent language during a game, shall be expelled for life. The resolution is considered too strong, and probably it will be modified at the February meeting of the magnates in St. Louis. Nevertheless, rowdyism on the field has increased alarmingly in recent years and threatens to ruin the popularity of the sport.

E. SHERIDAN.

WESTERN LEAGUE RECORD.

The Western League experienced an exceptionally good season for most of the clubs, but the losses of the Grand Rapids and Minneapolis clubs spoiled the general balance. Grand Rapids will not be in the circuit in 1898. Its successor has not been chosen. The standing of the teams in 1897 was:

BILLIARDS, PAST AND PRESENT

There were only three billiard events of national interest in the year 1897. These were: The "Shortstop" tournament, at the Great Northern Billiard Hall, Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 to March 8; the "Shortstop" tournament at Green's Billiard Hall, Chicago, March 27 to April 9; and the Championship tournament, at Madison Square Garden, New York, Nov. 29 to Dec. 4. The games played at Pittsburgh and Chicago were at the 14-inch balk line, with ten shots allowed in anchor. The games played at New York were at the 18-inch balk line, with only one shot inside the lines or within the anchor space. Each tournament furnished remarkable exhibitions of skill and many surprises. At Pittsburgh the winner was a player who, when the tournament was half over, apparently had no chance. At Chicago the player, who apparently had first place secure, lost his final game, placing him in a tie, and was beaten in the play off. At New York Schaefer beat Ives, and Slosson beat both, a fortunate, plucky and exceptionally skillful finish, earning for Slosson a championship which none could gainsay. In each series of games the player who made the highest grand average finished third.

Several years ago, when Ives was not known in the billiard world, and the three S's—Schaefer, Slosson and Sexton—were the stars of the profession, a discussion of the relative abilities of that trio was indulged in at a resort of sporting people in Cleveland, O. A bystander interrupted to ask, "What about the other players?" John Frawley, the veteran ex-champion of Ohio, answered, "Oh, they are a lot of shortstops." This designation of all the best billiard experts other than the three S's, got into the papers and, eventually, in general use in sporting and billiard circles. Since the term was first applied, Ives has developed from a country expert to a shortstop champion, and, finally, a star, while Sexton has retrograded to a shortstop whose name is rarely mentioned, excepting as one of the most resolute and popular players ever before the public. Such was the origin of the shortstop in billiards.

The Pittsburg tournament was due to the enterprise of Harry Davis, who offered prizes of $400, $300, $200, and $100—an aggregate of $1,000.

The players who entered and competed were George Sutton, William A. Spinks, and Thomas J. Gallagher, of Chicago; William H. Catton, of Rock Island; Frank Maggioli, of St. Louis, and Edward McLaughlin, of Philadelphia.

The performances of the tournament were a revelation and established records for individuals, and the shortstops, as a class, which the public believed only the stars were capable of making. And the glorious uncertainties of a billiard tournament were never more thoroughly exemplified. The unexpected happened with confusing frequency, silencing oracles and paralyzing speculators. When the last game was finished three men were tied for first, second, and third prizes, and three for fourth place. In the play-off, Sutton beat both Spinks and Gallagher, and Spinks secured second money. The fourth prize, $100, was divided between Catton, McLaughlin, and Maggioli.

The Chicago tournament was the result of the good playing done at Pittsburg. Clarence Green offered prizes of $350, $250, $200 and $100, for a tournament, on conditions similar to those governing the Smoky City contests. The players who participated at Pittsburg, and John Matthews, of Chicago, entered. From a professional standpoint the tournament was a brilliant success. General averages never before equaled in any 14-inch balk line tournament were witnessed, individual averages of over 20 were numerous, and while only two of the contestants failed to run over 100, three exceeded 150. Catton lost his first game, to Spinks, and then won five straight. Spinks won five straight and lost his sixth, to Gallagher. It was mutually agreed to make the tie game 600 points. In the game Spinks ran 194, and at one stage was over 200 points in the lead. But Catton overcame the lead and won by 122 points: averaging 50 the last six innings, and closing the game with a run of 116. Sutton, with a grand average of over 21, which would have won championship honors a few years ago, had to be content with third money. McLaughlin got fourth. One grand average of over 15 did not get any money.

The New York tournament was arranged to bring about a championship at a style of balk line billiards more likely to equalize the chances of all classes of experts than any heretofore played. Eighteen-inch lines, with only one shot allowed in balk and one in anchor, produced a game that was characterized by many extreme difficulties, but did equalize the chances of inferior players against superiors. The contestants were Frank C. Ives, Jacob Schaefer, George F. Slosson, Maurice Daly and George Sutton. To an entrance fee of \$100 each was added \$1.250 and the net box-office receipts, divided—50, 30 and 20 per cent. Daly and Sutton were outclassed. Schaefer displayed his usual skill in only one game. Then he defeated Ives. A new style of cushion was used. It took Schaefer several days to gauge it. He acknowledges to having been demoralized the first two games. Ives ran 140, made a single average of $30\frac{1}{4}$ and a grand average that none of the others approached. Yet he beat only Daly and Sutton. He lost to Slosson by 2 points, missing a simple masse when the game was apparently won. But Slosson, by superb line-nursing, masterly generalship and a bold left-hand effort, at a critical stage, scored a well earned run of 60, victory, and the championship. Ives was unfortunate, but that does not detract from the credit due his successful adversary. Slosson did not lose a game. His success surprised the public more than it did good billiard players. The public has underestimated his ability. Always a strong match and tournament player, the new game is of a style more favorable to his methods and skill than any other devised in the last fifteen years. Schaefer and Ives are players of marvelous resources, but at the new game either will hold Slosson in greater respect than the public will.

Handicaps appear to be the only scheme to equalize the chances of players and revive interest in billiard events. Most people who are enthusiastic and liberal patrons of the game care little for one-sided games, even when championships are involved, but delight in witnessing actual contests between ordinary players. By promoting handicaps professional billiard experts will subserve their own interests.

Appended will be found the scores, high runs, averages and summaries of the tournaments held in 1897; also a record of high runs and averages at all styles of billiards commonly played in the United States.

BICYCLING

This year has been most remarkable in cycling annals. All manner of records has been shattered. European riders have contributed largely to the work of record smashing, although several American wheelmen have shown some remarkable riding. The world's record for a mile, paced, flying start— $1:35\frac{2}{5}$ —is held jointly by J. W. Stocks of England, and Edward A. McDuffee of Boston. The best record for a mile unpaced— $1:59\frac{1}{5}$ —is possessed by Clinton R. Coulter of New York. That mark, in the estimation of most wheelmen, is the performance of any paced effort. The world's record for twenty-four hours is held by Maurice Cordang, a Hollander. It is 616 miles 340 yards. In comparison the American record for a day's riding is insignificant. Louis Gimm of Cleveland, possesses it. He rode 486 miles 1,151 yards in Chicago, Sept. 24 and 25, 1896. The world's record for an hour's riding is held by J. W. Stocks. He covered 32 miles 1,086 yards in that period of time in London, Sept. 27, 1897. The American record is held by James Michael, who traveled 31 miles 1,450 yards in an hour in New York, Sept. 25, 1897.

A correct compilation of American professional records has been arranged by Albert Mott, chairman of the L. A. W. racing board. Chicago riders are fairly well represented in the list of "time annihilators." Arthur Gardiner is there. So is John Lawson. Henry Bradis, too, has a few records to his credit. G. A. Phillips, H. Van Herik, W. A. Bainbridge and A. E. Irons figure in the records made by multicycle teams. Charles W. Miller shows a string of unpaced long distance records opposite his name, and in all probability, before the week ends, he will have broken the six-day record of 1,910 miles, thereby adding another leaf to his wreath of laurels.

Relative to the mile record it is predicted by authorities that the season of 1898 will see it reduced to 1:30. And students of long distance racing assert that the record for twenty-four hours will approach nearly 700 miles next year. Chairman Mott's figures follow:

HANDICAPPING AND RACING

Successful handicapping is a matter of common sense use of the items of racing. No figures can supply the flexible measure that must be applied to the fields of horses by the turf mathematician. Acquaintance with individuals—horses and men—is the keenest item in handicapping. No figures can give an idea of the liking of horses for different kinds of soil, or human combinations. Both are matters of personal observation and judgment.

The temperament of the thoroughbred is almost as broad in scope as that of humanity. The really great horse, like the sharply acute man, overcomes all difficulties, and wins. There are few really great horses. Some of supreme speed are only creatures of speed. Clifford was a notable example. He would run himself to pieces, unless restrained. The restraint of placing such a horse is often exhaustive and fatal. Henry of Navarre and Ben Brush are modern types of the high class and sensible horse. They won their races without riding management. Both showed sense and ambition in their youth—before they raced.

Speed is a keen factor in racing. It is the basis of handicapping of course, because it is the item which bears most sharply upon performance. But speed is valueless unless well calculated upon the basis of how speed was applied in the past. Handicapping is the calculation out of what has been done. Some horses favor racing in front: other choose, by mere temperament, to come from behind. Our timing is villainously inaccurate. I have known timers to miss the application of their watches to the start, and average matters on the basis of what horses in the race should do, as compared with what other horses in other races had done. Slipshod time keeping is one of the evils of the American turf. Judges and starters are paid large and timers small sums for their services. Considered in a public way, the timer is a more important official than either judge or starter. The keener of our handicappers, who bet large sums on their ideas of the performance of horses, keep their own time and find such keeping most profitable. The same men watch performance closely and bet on the judgment that comes from pure observation. The winners of to-day come from the losers of past days.

This fact is the sharpest argument against foreign betting. Mathematics can consider and apply the weights, distances and time of past performance to the probabilities of the future. But figures cannot—unless mingled with the judgment out of observation of racing and knowledge of individual peculiarities—be intelligently applied to racing.

Figures, however, even from the foundation of imperfect timing and report, outclass all other methods of picking winners. For that reason alone the general honesty of racing can be proven, accepted and praised.

The average handicapper, as the public knows him, guesses at his figurative estimates. Unless he does he will not "do." Man isn't a machine. He has moods, strong points, weak points, good days, and bad days. The thoroughbred horse is as flexible as man. The bookmaker flourishes upon his percentages, attention to details and the failure of the public to allow for individual peculiarities. Only the great horse and the great man does great things—regularly. Class is the ability to perform and win despite all obstacles.

I consider that there are twenty grades in horsedom. The bad horse isn't any more acrobatic or roguish than the cheap man. Neither can be chosen for reliability. From what I've seen of the turf and its action I declare, without hesitation, that figures will not select winners unless they are made under the eye of the mathematician who observes the individual he classes, knows that individual's strong and weak points, and at the same time calculates the average of owning and riding honestly, and ability.

The percentage of honesty upon the turf is as high as that of any mercantile corner, with a higher average of chance for trickery. The success of clumsy mathematics as applied to racing proves this statement. If any one does not think so I'll bet him —, I to prove my statement, or lose.

DIRECTIONS FOR APPLICATION.

The key to the handicap figures above is as follows:

First column designates time. Second column denotes figures of classification. Third column gives the key figures of weights for classification.

A nose counts $\frac{1}{2}$ a point. A head counts 1 point. A neck counts 2 points. Half a length 3 points. A length 5 points. One length is equal to $4\frac{1}{2}$ pounds at 1 mile or $\frac{1}{4}$ of a second in time.

Grade down weight and time allowances for lesser distances and grade up for over a mile.

At $\frac{3}{4}$ mile and less, speed is the most important item, outside individuality to be considered.

As in all handicap tables, the personal judgment of the calculator, as to quality, must be used in connection with the figures of classification.

GENERAL ESTIMATE—One point for one pound; two points for one length.

THE MATTER OF HANDICAPPING

The system followed in the office of Daily Racing Form is to estimate in decimal numbers the value of the past racing of the horses in each race—not on the basis of one, but often of twenty or thirty races. Frequently after the test of figures has been applied by the mathematician the editors add and amend because of special acquaintance or knowledge. So-called “inside information” is never used. The “form” is “form” only. In last year’s Manual two examples of “form” application to fields of horses were used. Here they are. The two examples apply to Handicap Table No. 1. Table No. 2 fits in with the general idea of No. 1. The first example is about the third race at Oakland, Nov. 30, 1896:

Horse.	Wt.	H'd	Reason.
Kamsin.	91	210	From race 4000 1 mile. 104 Pounds. Time 1.41¾. Estimated Value 195. 13 pounds off equals 15 points.
Damien.	94	164	From race 4914 1 mile, 108 pounds. Time 1.42½. Estimated value 149; 14 pounds off equals 15 points.
The Dragon.	94		No recent form worth calculation.
Lincoln II.	87	149	From race 4914 1 mile, 85 pounds. Time 1.42½. Estimated value 151. 2 pounds on equals two points deduction.
Salisbury II.	106	137	*From race 5164 1 mile, 96 pounds. Time 1.42¾. Estimated value 149. 10 pounds on equals 12 points deduction.
Installator.	110	176	†From race 5079 ¾ mile, 110 pounds. Time 1.29¼. Estimated value 176. Same value applied to the mile.
Thornhill.	103		Recent performance gives no material for consideration.
Gratify.	91		Form insufficient for calculation.
Salvation.	103		Form insufficient for calculation.

*The sense of racing idea for easiness of victory would allow from 8 to 10 points to this horse for the ease of his victory in race 5164.

†Knowledge of individuality in this case would furnish the handicapper with material for an allowance of from 5 to 10 points. The horse likes a sprinting distance.

In the race itself Salisbury II and Lincoln II had a close finish. Kamsin and Damien were left at the post. The figures applied correctly to Salisbury and Lincoln II. They failed on Installator. His excuse may have been a combination of ill luck in the race, dislike for the extra furlong, or shortness.

The second example is over the fifth race at Ingleside, Dec. 9.

Horses.	Last Dis.	Time.	Wt.	Wt.	Est.
Lucille.	$\frac{7}{8}$ m	1.29 $\frac{1}{2}$	107	107	144
Carrie U.	$\frac{3}{4}$ m	1.16 $\frac{3}{4}$	102	107	142
Fortuna.	$\frac{3}{4}$ m	1.18 $\frac{3}{4}$	105	107	None.
Pollock.	1 m	1.43 $\frac{3}{4}$	92	107	54
Woodchopper.	$\frac{7}{8}$ m	1.30	103	115	113
Jack Richelieu.	$\frac{3}{4}$ m	1.18 $\frac{1}{2}$	120	115	79
San Marco.	6 $\frac{1}{2}$ f	1.23	103	110	167
Toano.	$\frac{3}{4}$ m	1.14 $\frac{1}{2}$	101	112	192
Kowalski.	$\frac{7}{8}$ m	1.30 $\frac{1}{4}$	105	110	107

The horses ran to the figures one—two—three—four. Toano, 192, first; San Marco, 167, second; Lucille, 144, third; Carrie U., 142, fourth.

To go to later racing an advance table of the third race at Ingleside, Dec. 27, was figured overnight this way:

Satsuma 1,000	Morellito 890
Buck Massie 980	Spunwell 870
C. of Flanders. 970	Tom Cromwell 830
Mercutio 910	Orimar 780

The race was "tipped" on the mere notion of what boys would ride: Buck Massie, 1; Satsuma, 2; Count of Flanders, 3.

When the scratches came in, Buck Massie was out of the way; Woods was on the Count of Flanders, Clawson on Spunwell. Both boys suited both horses. E. Jones was on Satsuma. He had ridden him well, but the notion was that he could not do him full justice.

Still the calculation was:

Satsuma, 1,000.

Count of Flanders, 990.

Spunwell, 920.

Flanders won easily the mile in 1:40 $\frac{1}{4}$. His class had been underrated. So, perhaps, had Spunwell's. He was second, but overraced himself, according to past figures. Satsuma, third, did not run to the notch. The race—selected in advance for truth of running—did not yield to expectation. Future performance will show this to be true. Here is the overnight table as it was figured:

Satsuma 1,000	Morellito 890
Buck Massie 980	Tom Cromwell 830
Count of Flanders. 970	Orimar 780
Mercutio 910	Spunwell 770

Form charts supply the starting point of Handicap Table No. 3. Position, weight, distance ran and beaten, and time, are the matters for consideration. The application of all are shown in a practical way below:

The fourth race at Ingleside, Dec. 30, was figured in advance, and yielded as follows, on the basis of Handicap Table No. 3:

Horses.	Weight.	Hand.
Horatio	98	7775
Tripping	103	7823
Orimar	106	7831
Tom Cromwell	115	7793
Mercutio	98	7754
The Roman	106	7895
Buckwa	112	7871

The jockey and betting angles of the race before it was run retired Tom Cromwell and left the contention to The Roman, Buckwa and Orimar. They ran two-one-three.

The fifth race at Ingleside, Dec. 31, was figured the night of Dec. 30. Two handicaps were made by two men on the basis of Table No. 3. Here are both:

Handicap No. 1.

Horses.	Weight.	Hand.
Personne	95	7775
Horatio	98	7766
Marquise	104	7827
Bernardillo	95	7897
Souffle	104	7811

Handicap No. 2.

Horses.	Weight.	Hand.
Personne	95	7716
Horatio	98	7766
Marquise	104	7802
Bernadillo	95	7951
Souffle	104	7811

Bernardillo was first, Souffle second and Marquise third. Here is the expert's explanation as to one horse—Horatio—which, of course, applies in application to all:

Figure Horatio first, and as his race at one mile, which was run in 1:42, seems best to apply to this race, look down the column on chart headed "one mile" until you come to the time 1:42, and opposite you will see the figures 7768, which is the number of points a race of one mile in that time equals. Next see how far he was beaten, which was $1\frac{1}{4}$ lengths. Looking at the head of same column on chart you will see two sets of figures connected with a hyphen, 15-426. The 15 is the number of points equal to 1 length, therefore you subtract the equivalent of $1\frac{1}{4}$ lengths, or 19 points, from your 7768, leaving 7749. Next look at weights. To-day he has 6 lbs. off from that race. Now take the last number of the hyphenated pair at top of the chart (426), which means 4.26 points to each pound weight for that distance, and as he has 6 lbs. off he will figure in this race 6 times 4.26 points, or 26 points better (add full point if fraction is over $\frac{1}{2}$), which add to your 7749, making 7775—his value in the race. Should he have weight on, his value would, of course, be less, and you subtract instead of add. In all cases, if possible, figure up the values from a race of the same distance as the one you are figuring on. If not, take one at the nearest distance to it and look for your figures in the column headed that distance.

Horse.	Date.	Weight.	Beaten.	Dist.	Time.
Horatio	Dec. 4....	104	$1\frac{1}{4}$ l	1 m	1:42
Tripping	Oct. 16....	103		1 m	1:41 $\frac{1}{4}$
Orimar	Oct. 29....	105		1 m	1:41 $\frac{1}{2}$
Tom Cromwell ..	Oct. 22....	116	3 l	1 m	1:41
Mercutio	Nov. 20....	108	$7\frac{1}{2}$ l	1 m	1:41 $\frac{1}{4}$
The Roman . . .	Dec. 6....	103	$\frac{3}{4}$ l	1 m	1:40
Buckwa	Dec. 21....	115		1 1-16m	1:47 $\frac{1}{2}$

Table No. 3 will not do. It requires too much of the uniformity of condition and distance for general use. For special or occasional race application it is valuable.

HOW NOT TO LOSE

I tackled the thoroughbred racing sport under protest, in the fall of 1889 at Ed Corrigan's West Side track. Before that I had only studied and written about trotters. I was under contract to The Chicago Tribune. The trotters had ended their Western work for the season, and to fill a term I was turned loose among the thoroughbreds. It cost me $500 that fall. Seeing the necessity of studying the racing side of sporting I went keenly to the books during the winter. The baseball war turned up before the year was over. I was elected secretary of the National League of Baseball players and drifted from newspaperdom for a year. But my interest in racing did not die. I kept at the books, and when The Tribune re-engaged me the following spring it was to take charge of its sporting department and personally report racing. Of course I went at my work in a slapdash way, made mistakes, overlooked personality, bet and wrote matter which was unfair. I lost $2,700 that year—1891. Such financial punishment told me that some of my cogs were loose. I had played favorites, information and notion—mildly mixed with public form. I came to the conclusion that form, dashed strongly with knowledge of the personality of the horse, was the true guide. I gathered a lot of individual information about horses and a lesser store of the form of owners. I advised The Tribune to use telegraphic form sheets in 1892 and carried my point. That year I applied the information about horses and men, bet more than I had ever done before and won $700 on the season. My store of information naturally increased, and 1893 I cleaned up $2,800 in betting operations. In 1894 I won $6,400, mostly at Washington Park. In nineteen days in the middle of that noble meeting I lost but seven bets and won $7,930.

During the World's Fair meeting at Washington Park I won $3,450 off a $2 note. Though in position to do so, I never asked an owner for information, except at Hawthorne, where the racing was concise and each regular attendant knew the other and information was gossip. The result of such information was less than profitable. In the averages I simply played the form figure of the past, tempered by what I had seen, outside the figures, the individuality of the horses and prices, when form figures ran into each other. The handicapping table was discarded whenever its calculations ran against those of observation.

The latter and the ability to apply it to the horses, as grouped in races, is the key to betting success. Dishonesty on the turf is no broader than that of everyday trade and not worth consideration. I always did of late, though, figure that the incentive to beat a short-priced favorite was too great to be thrown out of calculation. Such favorites are marks for the general mob to shoot at—a natural obstacle for the owner of other horses in the race to bowl over. In the fall of 1894 I started Daily Racing Form—entirely my own idea. Its work was so keen and hard that the practical application of literary information to everyday racing was impossible and I stopped betting. In 1896, following the old plan, I made seven bets and won six of them. The year following I stopped betting entirely.

The way not to lose as I have found it, is in these few directions:

Never play a horse at less than evens.

Study the horse and its disposition.

Figure form on a basis of universal honesty.

Think for yourself. It is the only way to find how good you are. Give this plan a thorough trial.

When you can, always insure yourself by place betting.

One-two-three betting is not worthy of the attention of an intelligent bettor. I once bet Bill Riley at 20 to 1 one-two-three on a horse that went to the post $2\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 straight. He was fourth.

Use handicap figures only as a check on your own observation and idea of class.

Never seek to get even on a losing day by taking a chance on a long shot which isn't within calculation. There are other days.

Do not weaken on your choice because the price is long.

The ten years average of winning favorites, all about, is less than 41 3-7 per cent.

Time is an important factor. Discard the Anglo-American argument about its general worthlessness. I always figured it next to class, speed and individuality.

Class, as I calculate, is general ability to do great things when called upon to do them. Its most important item—supposing ability and speed to be with the horse—is disposition. The highest equine qualities are: Ambition to win and the intelligence to be placed and not to "fight" the rider.

Keep a record of impressions as to individual action and performance in bad going. Less than 17 per cent. of favorites win on tracks that are denominated slow, muddy or heavy.

These are the general rules that led me to avoid loss in betting on the chances of various groups of American racehorses.
